Effective Plans, Partnerships and People

About Speakman Management Consulting

Speakman Management Consulting facilitates the development of effective plans, partnerships and people for small to mid-sized organizations. Organizational services include:

- Strategic planning and implementation
- Facilitated retreats and team based working sessions
- Personal development, training and coaching
- Strategic partnerships including non-profit mergers

Through a combination of experienced facilitation and expert consulting your organization—with the input of all key stakeholders—will develop strategies and solutions to address key organizational issues.

This process ensures commitment and sets the stage for effective implementation.

Implementation is enhanced through training, development and coaching with key leadership. The bottom line is plans, partnerships and people focused on doing the 'right things in the right manner'.

Overall, we produce results.

"A key result of the retreat was an inspired, focused and more involved board. Your combination of facilitation, consulting and nonprofit expertise helped board members address critical issues efficiently and thoroughly"

Marcia Bansley,
Executive Director,
Trees Atlanta

"I am not sure how you did it, but we can up with a plan quickly, and we now have board and staff immediately working together in implementing plan, and have 'found' new volunteers and resources to help in our efforts.

Robin Howser,
Founder, Ferst Foundation for Childhood Literacy
